Hello SBA Families!

Last month we read more fun and exciting stories. We read and acted out the story of Chicken Little. After reading the story, we thought of our own rhyming names (like Henny Penny, Ducky Lucky, and Foxy Loxy). Ask your child what hit Chicken Little on the head and what he thought it was (an acorn, and he thought the sky was falling!). See how much of the story they can remember. Then we worked on story retelling and sequencing with The Three Billy Goats Gruff. And we had tons of fun reading The Three Little Pigs along with a few other similar stories like The Three Little Fish and the Big Bad Shark! Then we each thought of our own funny titles and randomly selected one to use to tell our own version of the story! And we hope you all enjoyed our presentation of The Three Little Pigs performed on the SBA classroom stage!!

We have more great stories and fun adventures planned for May. We will be exploring a book inspired by great music, an old classic, and we will be reading a longer story that will span two weeks and challenge the kids' memory and story retelling skills.

As always, please let us know if you have any questions or concerns.

Thanks!
