4’S CLASS NOVEMBER NEWSLETTER

October was such a fun, busy month, and I have no doubt that November will be the same. We are working hard to build fine motor strength through sensory play, art projects, and math manipulatives. This work is helping with our pincer grasp that we are practicing daily in class. Last month, I taught the class The Crayon Song to remind them the correct way to hold a writing instrument, and I would highly recommend practicing this with your kids at home! We will continue to sing this song and practice our grip throughout the year. Please make sure to send your child to school with a hooded jacket every day, as we go outside rain or shine!

FOOD DRIVE

November is canned food drive at St. John Vianney, and we would love for our class to participate! Please consider allowing your child to put some extra non-perishable food items in your grocery cart this month to bring to school. We will also incorporate canned food into our Show and Tell program this month. You can find more details about this below. We will be reminding our class that we can all help others in different ways, no matter what size we are!

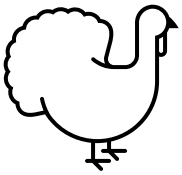

SHOW AND TELL

We will introduce our Show and Tell program in November. Each child will have the opportunity to share one time this month as we start to build the skills of speaking in front of the class, listening to one another, and asking questions. I would love for each student to choose one non-perishable item to bring with them to school on their sharing day. Bonus points if that item matches our letter of the week! They will get the chance to share what food they brought and then donate the item when they are done. If they forget to bring an item that day, they can choose an item out of the donation bin or share their favorite food with the class. This will be great practice for Letter of the Week Sharing routine we will begin in January.
